Trouble Looms As Doukhobors Flock To This Province

Many Fanatics Among Doukhobors Crossing From Prairies Into B.C. Daily; Government Powerless To Stop Influx; Police Investigate Burning of Disused Hospital Building at Ymir.

Nelson, B.C., May 12.—No arrests have been made yet of Doukhobors believed to have set fire to the Ymir Hospital, sixteen miles from here, early Sunday. Provincial Police to-day are working on the case.

Provincial Police to-day denied fanatic Doukhobors at Porto Rico had been on a nude parade. The camp is under police surveillance. But despite police denials, residents of Salmon and Ymir and motorists stated several Doukhobors from the camp of fanatics had appeared on the highway in nude Saturday.

Almost daily, truck loads of Doukhobors are arriving in Nelson from Prairie points. It is known a large number of these are fanatics.

In order to keep a check on their activities at Porto Rico, on the Salmon River and at Slocan Park on the Skeena River, police are daily and nightly patrolling these areas.

POWERLESS TO HALT INFUX
Aware for weeks that Doukhobors have been trekking into British Columbia from Saskatchewan colonies the British Columbia Government is powerless to stop the influx. Scores of Doukhobors, most of them from the Verigin Colony, have been headed for British Columbia since the outbreak of the Doukhobor movement in Saskatchewan, and although the numbers have not been so great lately they are still crossing the provincial boundary daily. There is no law, Federal or Provincial, giving authority to restrict travel from one province of Canada to another. The Attorney-General is keeping in constant touch with affairs through the Provincial Police and it is admitted the serious differences existing between the factions of the sect may lead to threatening outbreaks.

SEEK SEPARATION
The root of the trouble is believed to be the desire of the Doukhobors on the prairies to secure complete separation from the B.C. Doukhobor colony with headquarters at Brilliant B.C. The Doukhobor leader, Peter Verigin, it is understood, has refused to give an accounting or make payment to the prairie province Doukhobors of a share of the general funds to which they claim they are entitled. Stirred by what they regard as a despotic role the Doukhobor leader is assuming they have come to British Columbia to force their demands and are in a frame of mind that presages trouble. It is also thought that rancor through their minds is hard feeling toward the authorities of British Columbia, whom they for some reason regard as jointly responsible for their failure to obtain satisfaction. Officials of the Attorney-General's Department point out that with ordinary persons the matter would be one to settle in the courts, but complications arise by reason of the fact that court action is against the Doukhobor religion.

French Airmail Fliers Cross Southern Atlantic

Jean Mermoz and Two Companions Reach South America From Senegal, Africa; Rain Filled Cabin of Plane

Rio Janeiro, Brazil, May 12.—The Aero Postal Company announced that Jean Mermoz, French aviator, and two companions, landed at 6.12 a.m. 1.12 a.m. Victoria time) at Natal, Brazil, near the most easterly tip of the continent.

The landing completed a flight of about 1,700 miles from St. Louis, Senegal, which is near the far western tip of Africa. It took 21 hours and 12 minutes, more than an hour longer than the aviators had expected the trip would require.

The plane, a small biplane, left Perpignan, France, on May 2 for St. Louis. When departing at noon yesterday for Natal it picked up air mail which had arrived Saturday night from Paris by plane and took it across the Atlantic. The trip of the Aero Postal Company air mail heretofore had been made in fast destroyers.

SENT RADIO MESSAGE
All was not easy flying for the plane. The first part of the trip was easy, but once near the middle of the journey

BUDGET VOTE IS EXPECTED TO-MORROW

Too Many Speakers on Commons List For Division This Evening

Questions Answered By Prime Minister Before Manion Resumes Discussion

Ottawa, May 12.—As the budget debate proceeded in the Commons this afternoon it was generally conceded the vote was practically certain to go over until to-morrow. Too many members were on the speakers' list to permit a division by 11 o'clock to-night, the adjournment hour.

RADIO BROADCASTING
At the question time this afternoon, before the budget debate was resumed, E. J. Farland, U.F.A. Bow River, wanted an assurance from the Minister of Marine and Fisheries (Mr. Cardin) that a licence for radio broadcasting would not be granted to the C.P.R. "in view of the present complicated situation."

BORROWINGS DECLARED TOO GREAT TOTAL

Tolmie Government Working Toward Disaster For Itself, Says Pattullo

Chilliwack, B.C., May 12.—"The most ill-informed, the most ignorant and the most partisan government this Province has ever known," was the description by the Liberal Leader, T. D. Pattullo, of the party now in power at Victoria, given at a well-attended meeting held in the Legion Hall here last evening under Liberal auspices.

During the first session of the present Government, Mr. Pattullo declared, the public gave considerable leeway of judgment. It was a curious thing, however, that in every measure brought forth the amendments which had been made by the Liberals for the general public good, had been voted down by the Conservatives for their special interests. Coming to the end of the speaker said taxes had been increased, faith had been broken with the municipalities and with the motorists, and an increase of 140 had been made in the Civil Service Department

DEATH ENDS NANSEN'S POLE FLIGHT PLANS

World Famous Arctic Explorer and Humanitarian Succumbs in Norway

Was Arranging to Head Graf Zeppelin Party on Dash to North Pole

Oslo, Norway, May 12.—Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, famous explorer and humanitarian, died here to-day, aged sixty-eight.

He was widely known as an Arctic explorer, zoologist, diplomat, humanitarian and author. He recently started plans to make a dash to the North Pole next year aboard the dirigible Graf Zeppelin.

One of the famous citizens of Norway, Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, had a distinguished career as an explorer, zoologist, diplomat, humanitarian and author, and while he achieved notable successes in all those fields, he was perhaps best known for his expeditions into the Arctic regions.

VOYAGED WHILE STUDENT
Born October 10, 1861, at Froen, near Christiania (now Oslo), Dr. Nansen came of a family of national fighters who in the seventeenth century deprived the nobility of their privileges. He lived in his native town until he was twenty.

HEAVY RAINS IN MANITOBA

Winnipeg, May 12.—Rain-drenched farms in Manitoba to-day were still being soaked with spring moisture, while clearing weather swept over Alberta and Saskatchewan. In almost every section of Manitoba, rain fell overnight. There were traces of precipitation in some parts of Eastern Saskatchewan, but for the most part fair weather prevailed and in Alberta not a drop of rain was laid overnight. Farmers of both provinces are resuming the last portion of their seeding. Wheat-sewing in Manitoba is complete.

Clearing weather is forecast for all three provinces to-day and to-morrow.

TOLMIE SAYS LEADERS SEE RICH FUTURE

Eastern Financiers Optimistic For British Columbia, Kiwanians Told

Premier Intimates Valuable Resources Discovered By P.G.E. Survey

Financial and industrial leaders of Eastern Canada are highly optimistic regarding the prosperity which awaits the people of British Columbia through energetic development of the natural resources of the Province, said Premier Tolmie this afternoon, in an address before the Kiwanis Club at the Empress Hotel. He appealed to young men to realize that better opportunities could not be found anywhere else by the ambitious and energetic worker.

"This Province should be the ideal place for the young man. Just join the first perspiration club you meet and hustle to work. That is what will make young men successful and at the same time put this Province ahead. The possession of a university degree is not a guarantee of success."

Nizhni-Novgorod, Russia, May 12.—Children playing with matches started a fire which swept through the village of Zhukovka, in the Arzamas district, destroying 17 houses, many warehouses and other buildings, according to a delayed dispatch reaching here to-day. The fire occurred on Sunday.

HE KEPT GLIDER ALOFT FIFTEEN HOURS AND WILL AGAIN ATTEMPT RECORD

Jack Barlow, twenty-four-year-old San Diego, California, glider pilot, shown above with his wife and baby, kept his glider in the air for fifteen hours and thirteen minutes, but his world record was unofficial as he had no hangar aboard. Then he started out for an official record and after being up eight hours, crashed. Now he plans to try again. The official record is fourteen hours and ten minutes, held by a German glider.

83 Polling Stations For Federal Election To Prevent Crowding

New Voting System To Be Introduced Here for Coming Test, Returning Officer Courtney Announces; Complete New Registration of Voters Here To Be Carried Out With Corps of Enumerators to Search Out and List Everyone Eligible to Mark Ballot; Subdivision of City Now Being Made.

Residents of Victoria City at the coming Federal election will vote at eighty-three polling subdivisions which will take the place of voting at five large ward stations, as has been the custom.

Announcement of this was made to-day by H. E. A. Courtney, Dominion returning officer.

Mapping of the city into eighty-three subdivisions or precincts has been completed by Mr. Courtney, and a polling station will be established in each one of these.

"This means that everyone will have a chance to vote with the least inconvenience, and the old-fashioned crowding at the big polling stations will be eliminated," Mr. Courtney said.

"Under the new system there will be only about 250 to 300 voters assigned to each polling station. There will be one deputy returning officer and one poll clerk in each station.

"With this decentralization of voting, almost without exception, Victoria voters will have to go only to the next block to vote, if the polling station is not actually in his own block. The crowding at the polls and difficulties some persons have sometimes experienced in finding the polling station will be largely eliminated."

Old Submarine For Daring Arctic Trip

Washington, May 12.—The Sir Hubert Wilkins expedition, which would sail beneath ice across the top of the world—from Spitzbergen via the North Pole to Bering Sea—has chosen the old and battered United States submarine 6-13 for its craft, and yesterday made a written request to the Navy Department for a charter.

The plans disclose that the submarine, if made available, would be virtually rebuilt; fitted with machinery for boring through ice fifty feet thick; equipped with a balloon for air observation and provided with television and radio.

Specifically the letter submitted to Assistant Secretary Jahncke of the navy by Sloan Danahower, a former naval reserve lieutenant-commander, requested that the 6-13 be commissioned at Philadelphia and transferred to the United States Shipping Board for charter in connection with an "international government investigation of the Arctic regions."

MOST DARING VOYAGE

GRUBSTAKES MENTIONED AT INQUIRY

Vancouver City Council Continues Its Relief Funds Investigation

Accountant Answers Questions on Groceries at To-day's Hearing

Vancouver, May 12.—Allegations that two prospectors had been grubstaked and sent to Daisy Lake, where Relief Officer G. D. Ireland and Clerk Investigator Clifton Maxwell own a property, were contained in answers given by Accountant Archibald Hutchins of the Vancouver relief office in reply to questions by Corporation Counsel G. E. McCrossan, K.C., at this morning's session of the city council committee's inquiry into that department.

Records also showed, according to Mr. Hutchins, that between September and April groceries valued at $100 were sent to Ole Olsen who, the witness understood, was a Crescent Beach grocer.

The question of Olsen and the prospectors, Gourling and Routledge, was introduced by Mr. McCrossan in the course of examining the witness about grocery requisitions of the city department. He brought out that grocery requisitions generally were on file in the office of Hutchins. He asked the witness if there were any exceptions to this rule.

"Yes," replied Hutchins, "there are some kept in the grocery department separately. These are Olsen, Olsen, Bell, Garden and Gourling."

"And on whose authority are these kept separately?"

"On Mr. Ireland's," replied witness.

"Why?"

"I don't know."

"Who are these men?"

"Bell, I think, is employed at the Old People's Home. So is Garden. Gourling is an old relief case, now giving the old age pension. Olsen, I understand, is a man at Crescent Beach."

ALONG THE P.G.E.

Mr. McCrossan showed the witness some requisitions and asked what they represented. Hutchins replied they were to grubstake Gourling and Routledge up the P.G.E. to Daisy Lake. They were for $25 and $15. Another requisition for $100 was also shown. The witness was asked if the men were listed as prospectors.

PULP MILL AT COQUITLAM IS PROPOSED

Meilardville, B.C., May 12.—At a meeting last night the Coquitlam Municipal Council Reeve E. C. MacDonald reported there was now every likelihood of a pulp and paper mill being established in the municipality by James Bear of Palo Alto, Cal. From information he had received, the Reeve said, the mill would be located on the north shore of the Fraser River, about five miles from the city of Coquitlam.

The company has acquired a number of options on timber tracts in this Province, it is understood.

Stimson Upholds New Naval Pact

Washington, May 12.—Defending the framework of the London Naval Conference against a petting succession of questions, secretary Stimson maintained stoutly before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to-day that the United States had made no hasty sacrifice by reducing its building programme of big cruisers.

The provisions of the London Treaty, he said, were based throughout on the advice of the United States Naval experts.

Gandhists Flee As Troops End Their City Rule

PARROTS ARE BARRED NOW FROM CANADA

Federal Department Takes Action to Prevent Epidemic of Psittacosis

Sailors Bringing Birds in as Pets Blamed For Outbreak in British Columbia

Ottawa, May 12.—An Order-in-Council issued by the Department of Agriculture under the authority of Animal Contagious Diseases Act, prohibits the importation into Canada of parrots, parakeets, cockatoos, macaws, lorries, lorikeets and love birds.

This step, announced to-day, was deemed necessary by the Department of National Health as a measure toward the control of an outbreak of psittacosis or parrot fever in British Columbia. Up to the present time eleven cases have been reported from Pacific Coast ports in that Province.

Psittacosis is a disease affecting the lungs and respiratory system, the Department of National Health points out, the general symptoms being essentially similar to those of pneumonia.

During the months of March and April a total of 112 birds of the various parrot species was brought into the Pacific Coast of Canada by sailors, and it is believed these imported birds have been the cause of the disease coming into Canada.

While outbreaks of psittacosis have been reported in various countries from time to time, this is the first time that it has made its appearance in the Dominion.

SENTENCES IMPOSED
Six months' simple imprisonment was imposed to-day on Abbas Tyabji, whose arrest followed on the heels of his succeeding Gandhi as campaign leader when the "holy one" was jailed.

Jungtaram Dave, who was allied with Tyabji in the attack on the Dharana salt depots, received a similar sentence. But three years' rigorous imprisonment was imposed on Dr. Mah. Kitchelwar, arrested at Marjion. Other Congress workers were given almost as severe sentences.

With the Hindu poetess, Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, was Manilal, son of Gandhi, planning to-day to launch new raids on government depots. Dharana is planned as the centre of another assault on Thursday. Already 160 followers have gathered at the harbor.

Predicted New Trade Will Cut Living Cost

Hon. Charles Stewart, Addressing Commons, Says Widening of British Preference Is Great Forward Step By King Government

Ottawa, May 12.—"The basic purpose of the Dunning budget is to increase Empire trade—to transfer a large bulk of necessary and essential imports to countries willing to trade with Canada. The widening of the British preference is more than lip loyalty. It is a straightforward offer of trade to Great Britain and forward action on the part of the government."

In these words Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, the first member of the Cabinet to speak in the budget debate in the Commons, summed up the tariff changes.

BIG INCREASE PREDICTED
Conservatives had expressed the opinion imports from Great Britain would not materialize, he said, adding, "the House yesterday" afterwards, with this he did not agree. He predicted a wholesale exchange of goods between Canada and Great Britain, with a corresponding reduction in the cost of living for the consumers.

FEDERAL HARBOR CONTROL SOUGHT

Burnaby Council Would Have North Fraser Port Under Ottawa Government

Burnaby, B.C., May 12.—Turning over of North Fraser Harbor to the Federal Government was foreshadowed in a resolution of the Burnaby council last night requesting this action. The resolution was passed unanimously. He said that while the Provincial Government collected an annual rental of $4,000 from North Fraser Harbor Industries, it paid nothing to ward the upkeep of the harbor.

According to Col. B. D. Harrison of the North Fraser Harbor Commission, outlined the Commission's attitude to the Burnaby Council yesterday evening. He said that while the Provincial Government collected an annual rental of $4,000 from North Fraser Harbor Industries, it paid nothing to ward the upkeep of the harbor.

Snake Steals Wrong Egg

Baltimore, May 13.—A smooth white stone, placed in a hen's nest to encourage greater egg production, proved the tombstone of a snake which had been raiding the nest. Several days later visitors at the home of James Perdue, Parsonsburg farmer and owner of the hen, killed a large snake. Examination of a large lump in the snake's body revealed the missing stone. Presence of the snake also cleared up the mystery surrounding the scarcity of eggs in the Perdue nest recently.

ROUMANIANS AGAIN ARGUING ABOUT CAROL

Liberal Leader Publishes Pamphlet Accusing Government of Plotting Return

Bucharest, Roumania, May 13.—A political sensation was created yesterday by publication of a pamphlet by the Liberal leader, Vintila Bratianu, attacking the Maniu Government and the Regency Council, whom he accused of plotting the return of Prince Carol.

One hundred thousand copies are being distributed among the peasants and the morning papers publish extracts to-day. Prince Nicholas, Carol's brother and a member of the Regency Council, tried to prevent publication of the pamphlet and threatened to prosecute Bratianu.

The Liberals assert they will use every effort to prevent what they allege are proposed changes in the constitution and return of Carol.

According to well-informed persons, however, Queen Marie and Prince Nicholas are said to favor return of Carol to replace Nicholas in the Regency Council, but Princess Helen, Carol's ex-wife and mother of little King Michael, has threatened to leave the country if her former husband comes back.

WHEAT SEEDING NEARLY FINISHED

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, May 12.—Alberta farmers to-day were finishing up the last of their wheat seeding as Manitoba and Saskatchewan agrarians looked out over rain-moistened land. Rains in both central and eastern prairie provinces have prevented work on the land for the last several days, but sowing of wheat is virtually complete in Saskatchewan and finished in Manitoba.

Slight showers on Saturday night did not halt work in central and northern Alberta and farmers were toiling busily to-day. Well over ninety per cent of wheat in the Edmonton area, though it is not as far advanced in the Peace River districts. In the far south of the province, MacLeod reported an overnight rain of three-quarters inch and Cardston one-quarter; seeding in the south, however, is practically finished.

Only local showers occurred in Saskatchewan, as in Alberta, but generally heavy rains have been falling in the wheat province of late. Estevan, in southeast Saskatchewan, Edmonton to the north on the Alberta border, and Indian Head in the southern central part of the province all reported one-third of an inch of overnight rain but other showers were rare.

CONFERENCE ON LUMBER TRADE INDIA IS SET FOR OCTOBER

Viceroy in Public Announcement Says Sessions in London Being Arranged

Lord Irwin Censures Gandhi and Other Independence Leaders

Simla, India, May 13.—In a statement summarizing present conditions in India, Lord Irwin, Viceroy, yesterday announced the long-discussed round-table conference to consider India's attainment of Dominion status would open in London October 20. Mahatma Gandhi and the other leaders of the civil disobedience movement were censured in the Viceroy's statement for not awaiting the holding of the conference.

Lord Irwin said they had "spurned an opportunity unprecedented in India's history, and rejected a unique chance of playing a constructive part in the evolution of the country's future."

PROTECTIVE MEASURES
Lamenting "ominous tales of mob violence and armed and murderous raids" from Peshawar, Madras, Bombay, Calcutta, Chittagong, Karachi, Delhi and Sholapur, the Viceroy declared the government had been compelled to arm itself against the growing menace.

He appealed to Indians to consider the facts dispassionately and recognized the desire for real political advance was widespread throughout India, but he warned the civil disobedience leaders would be postponing its fruition if they broke the law.

"At this juncture in India's history," the statement began, "I desire to recall the attention of her people to the main situation as developed."

NOVEMBER STATEMENT
"On November 1 last I made an announcement on behalf of His Majesty's Government, that in their judgment it was implicit in the declaration of 1917 that the natural issue of India's constitutional progress as there contemplated was the attainment of Dominion status."

"I further stated that when the statutory commission and the Indian central committee had submitted their reports, and these had been published, and when His Majesty's Government had been able, in consultation with the Government of India, to consider these matters in the light of all material then available, they would propose to invite representatives of different parties and interests in British India and representatives of Indian states to participate in the declaration of 1917, as circumstances might demand, for the purpose of conference and discussion in regard to British India and the all-India conditions."

NEW CONDITIONS
Lord Irwin continued that when he met Gandhi and Pandit Motilal Nehru, leader of the congress committee (later arrested), on December 23, 1929, "they made it plain they were not prepared to participate in the conference, except upon new conditions which had found no place in my announcement, and consequent upon this the congress at Lahore, under the guidance of Gandhi, proclaimed its creed to be that of complete independence."

EX-MINISTER'S DEATH LEAVES GAP IN HOUSE

Rt. Hon. J. Wheatley Was Unusual Figure in British Commons

Canadian Press
London, May 13.—Rt. Hon. John Wheatley, who died in Glasgow yesterday, was a man of humble birth, of extraordinarily strong character and rigid views. He was a power for years in the Labor movement and it was thought when he became Minister of Health in the first MacDonald Government six years ago he was but launched on the path of political greatness. His strength, however, proved his weakness, for his unflinching adherence to what he termed his principles brought him into collision many times with the other heads of the Cabinet and the Labor movement in general.

John Wheatley's parents were of the Irish laboring class. Young Wheatley developed an early passion for politics. The conditions he saw around him seemed to fire him with an ardent longing to "shatter the sorry scheme of things entirely," in the words of the old Psalmist, and to "re-mold it nearer to the heart's desire."

DESCRIBES REVOLUTIONISTS
Perhaps that is why John Wheatley was once described as the most formidable revolutionist in the country. Whatever may have been his political views, there was nothing quaint, wild-eyed and revolutionary about his physical appearance. He was a fat, round, jovial man, more of the Pickwickian than the Marxian type, yet his eyes seemed to reflect the hatred he held against modern society and when he attacked opponents his words and sharp voice cut the air like a razor.

He was born in 1869. He had few opportunities for education. He attended the village school, but began work in the Lanarkshire mines at the age of twelve. He was a miner until he was twenty-two. He served variously on the Lanarkshire town council, the Glasgow city council—in which he led the Labor group—became chairman of the Scottish National Housing Council, and had a dozen other positions. He was on the council of the Independent Labor Party in 1922 and 1924. In 1929 won the formation of the second Labor Cabinet found Rt. Hon. John Wheatley "out in the cold," he joined James Maxton and was one of the leaders of a small party of so-called "Clydeside rebels." He was a fearless critic of the Labor Government and made bitter attacks, especially against Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas.

ABLE DEBATER
Mr. Wheatley was reputed one of the finest logicians in the Labor ranks. He was the author of many articles on social questions. The death of Mr. Wheatley causes a vacancy for the Shettleston division of Glasgow in the House of Commons. He won the seat by a large majority at the general election and the riding is regarded as fairly safe for the Laborites.

Log Prices Cut $1 a Thousand; Coast Lumber For Rail Cars to Be Discussed

Seattle, May 13.—Chance for a more stabilized lumber market on the West Coast, through the contemplated reduction of around 35 per cent in output of West Coast woods was further discussed during the last week, when fir log prices dropped $1 average on Puget Sound to $15, $16 and $18. That the ultimate outcome, however, will be one of improvement is the opinion of leaders of the industry.

And that the late summer and fall business will be the forerunner of a healthy domestic market is the belief held in some quarters. Reaction to the proposed firm price policy, which has already gained headway among manufacturers by the laying off of night shifts, has been one of indifference from lumber buyers, as prices were barely steady, with numerous offers to each inquiry.

Current volume of new business is light, but a sudden spurt from any single outlet would be reflected in the market on this end, especially in view of the lowered output. Buying is on a hand to mouth basis, with yard stocks in the Middle West at a low point. It is felt here, despite the larger inventories, that a continued firm demand would soon deplete stocks at mills and that supplies of popular items would become exhausted.

TRADE GROUPS AID
The address of John Lord O'Brien, assistant to the Attorney-General of the United States given at the recent annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at Washington, in which the attitude of the department of justice toward trade associations was outlined, is reprinted for distribution among the lumber industry.

O'Brien pointed out that every experienced lawyer knows how much trade associations have contributed and are contributing to the development of a sound public opinion in the special fields of industry. He stated that no one understands this better than the law officers of the department of justice, and assured members of the Chamber of Commerce that the department is not in the slightest degree hostile to the proper activities and healthy growth of trade associations.

TRADE MEETING MAY 28
The manufacture and use of railroad car material produced from West Coast lumber will be discussed at a meeting of lumber industry, railroad and car building representatives to be held in Portland, Oregon, on May 28, under the auspices of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, the association announced yesterday. Invitations have been sent to a large number of railroad and car material executives, purchasing agents, engineers and construction men, and to sawmill operators, sales managers, planing mill and dry kiln men. Responses indicate a strong interest in the meeting and assure a good attendance.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss problems of manufacturing and grading car material to meet the varied detail requirements of the many companies now using Douglas fir. With car material producers and users having a better understanding of their related problems, the association believes, conditions favorable to more efficient manufacture and increased buyer satisfaction will be promoted. Considerable time has been devoted to both car material and general railroad lumber requirements by the association's trade extension force, and to more accurate manufacturing and grading by its inspection staff.

The tentative programme includes talks by railroad and car building representatives upon car construction, which would include the use requirements of individual construction firms, the importance of exact manufacturing methods used in construction.

FREIGHT RATES ON NEWSPRINT ARE ARGUED

Canadian Press
Ottawa, May 13.—Freight rates on newspaper paper from Canadian mills to points in the United States in some cases are lower than rates over corresponding distances in Canada. This declaration was advanced yesterday before the Board of Railway Commissioners when hearing of the claims of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways for increases in international rates on newsprint was opened.

The hearing arises out of increases announced by the railways some time ago. These increases were not put into effect because, on the application of newspaper interests, the board suspended their operation. The present hearing is to determine whether the suspension is to become permanent. J. E. Knowles, assistant freight traffic manager of the Canadian National Railways, was the principal witness yesterday, being examined by Alister Fraser, K.C., counsel for the railway system.

The Canadian rates, Mr. Knowles explained, were arrived at on a mileage basis under the new schedule proposed by the railway. The international rates would be determined on the same basis. As an example of what were termed the anomalies of the present rating, Mr. Knowles stated the rate on newsprint from Ottawa to Pittsburgh shipped

PARTNERS IN A GREAT ENTERPRISE

Labor

"ENDURING equal partnership, national in character, cannot exist unless it is based upon mutual understanding and co-operative effort."

—Senator GIDEON ROBERTSON at the 1929 convention of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, on "Canada's Economic Partnership".

Labor is one of the greatest members of the Canadian Economic Partnership. Without it the highest visions of progress are useless. Today, in Canada, it is a powerful force. Its standards of living have bettered, its outlook has become national and it has contributed men of genius to almost every phase of leadership. In its complete co-operation with capital lies the secret of progress. With both elements in harmony Canada will quickly realize her vision of ever-widening prosperity.

The Bank of Toronto has always been closely in touch with the wage earner. Through its savings department and other banking facilities this Bank has established a mutual co-operation and for three-quarters of a century has retained the faith of the Canadian people. Today, as always, its co-operation and advice are available to every citizen of integrity.

CHILDREN'S AID HOME IS AGAIN BEFORE COUNCIL

Children's Aid Society Asks
New Quarters, Citing Grave
Risk From Fire

No Legal Liability on Part of City to Furnish Quarters, It Is Countered

A definition of policy in regard to the Children's Aid Home was given before the City Council yesterday evening, when it was stated that the corporation was not responsible for the upkeep of the premises, other than beyond the payment of those sums necessary to care for children committed to the home through the city's police or juvenile courts.

The explanation arose out of a notice from the Children's Aid Society that the inmates of the home were at present housed in a building which had been condemned by the fire marshal. The society asked that more suitable premises be set aside by the city for this purpose.

In explaining the request, Alderman E. S. Woodward said he had been under the impression the city was legally responsible for the home and its safety in regard to fire.

The city had contributed the chief sums to the maintenance of the home, but was not legally bound beyond its liability in regard to children it sent there, stated Mayor Anscomb.

There was no doubt that the present quarters were a fire trap, urged Alderman Woodward who said this fact had been frequently reported.

Asked for a ruling, H. S. Pringle, city solicitor, said the corporation's legal duties ended at the provision of a fixed sum per capita for those children committed to the institution by the city's courts. The Children's Aid Society will be so notified. Three reports have now been made to the council on the fire menace said to prevail at the existing premises.

A similar reply was made to a letter from the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, which alleged that a report was current that Oriental cooks were employed at the Aged Ladies' Home. The city paid for the upkeep of those inmates at the home, but did not operate the institution, it was explained.

Passing to other business, the council agreed to call tenders for new plumbing at the caretaker's house at Elk Lake. The city engineer was authorized to proceed with dredging at the Garbally Road wharf at a cost in the neighborhood of $150. The Island Tug and Barge Company will do the latter work.

The council voted $5,000 on account of this year's grant to the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau. The amount of the grant is $25,000, paid in instalments.

Premises at 2942 Cedar Hill Road and at 29 Erie Street were reported as dilapidated, and their removal will be ordered.

BUY CITY LAND

The council authorized the sale of two lots on the south side of Dunedin Street west of George Road, to the Canadian Western Woodworkers Limited for $400 on short terms, the purchasers to assume local improvements outstanding. A fifteen foot strip at the northwest corner of Niagara and Croft Sts. will be sold to another purchaser for $75, to be merged with adjoining property.

A request from the fire wardens that a city lot, No. 40, Section 6, Map 780, situated at the southerly junction of Blanshard and Douglas Streets, be set aside for future use as a fire hall in the James Bay area, ran into opposition, and was tabled. A majority of the aldermen objected to the use of the property for this purpose on account of its value, and also on account of the proximity of the South Park School.

The council agreed to the immediate installation of more fire sirens in the downtown district, of which four will be added to the existing circuit on Government Street, and three placed in a new circuit on Blanshard Street, at a total cost of $540.

Permission was granted to the West-land Street Project limited to install a gasoline tank and pump on private property at 1009 Yates Street.

The council went into camera to complete its business for the evening.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY

That the skill of the cook plays an important part in the cost of meals is an undisputed fact. The woman who can take the simplest sort of food-stuffs and cook them to perfection always can serve a "good meal," for good cooking is the first essential for good food.

Start in importance to good cooking comes regard for family tastes. Adults whose food tastes already are formed cannot be made to eat foods they do not like, and the woman who tries to do this usually finds wasted food on her hands. This in turn means wasted money, time and effort.

One of the surest and easiest means of economy in meal planning is the regular use of seasonable foods. Although the markets offer all varieties of produce throughout the year, the cost varies at different seasons. Long distance shipping involving the necessity of refrigeration or applied heat costs money and increases the price of foods shipped under these conditions.

Very often economy in one place means increased cost in another. If the cook would save money she must usually spend time. This extra-time must be spent in the kitchen or in a trip to the markets. In any event she will find her time well spent, for a trip to market will prove not only an economy but an inspiration for planning menus.

Extra cooking and baking done one day makes it possible to do less the following day.

One-dish main courses effect a worth-while saving in dishwashing. The old-fashioned "boiled dinner," casseroles of meat and vegetables and meat and vegetable pies, are nourishing examples of one-piece main dishes that require little watching during cooking and leave a minimum of serving dishes and cooking utensils to be cleaned up after the meal.

Fuel always can be saved by making full use of the oven. A little planning makes it possible to cook almost the entire meal with the same amount of heat needed for one dish.

The following menu may suggest other combinations for oven meals: Meat loaf, salted potatoes, baked carrots and peas, graham rolls, baked apples with whipped cream, coffee.

WOMEN FAVOR STERILIZATION OF DEFECTIVES

Local Council Hears Pros and Cons of Problem of Mentally Unfit

By a vote of nineteen to four, with several of the representatives of the affiliated societies refraining from voting, the Local Council of Women went on record yesterday in favor of the principle of sterilization of mental defectives, after hearing the pros and cons lucidly explained by Dr. George Hall, who advocated sterilization, and Dr. Irene Bastow Hudson, who opposed it. Miss Cressie presided at the meeting.

MANY IN CANADA
 Dr. Hall in his address spoke of sterilization of the mentally defective as a useful and necessary procedure, pointing out that a recent census showed that two per cent. of the school population of Canada was feeble-minded, while there was no record of the even larger number who were incapable of training. He quoted statistics to show that in American states where sterilization had been practiced, it had been a success in that it had read a book with understanding, and 40,000,000 who would never get beyond the eighth grade mentally. The presence of the feeble-minded in the community was largely responsible for the criminal classes who filled the prisons and for eighty per cent. of the unfortunate who were in the asylums thus inflicting a tremendous burden upon the community for support of these institutions.

Speaking of the results of sterilization, Dr. Hall observed that this law was in operation in Alberta, in several European countries, and in a number of states in the U.S.A. In California it had been in operation for five years and had proved successful, according to eminent authorities, in restricting procreation by those whose offspring would be a menace and a cost to the community.

MORAL STANDPOINT
 Dr. Bastow Hudson opposed sterilization on the grounds of the moral standpoint, rather than from the economic point of view. She declared that enforced sterilization would be one of the greatest sins against humanity and would ensure the downfall of the race and the destruction of the world.

Two resolutions sponsored by Far West Assembly, Canadian Daughters, concerning the sterilization of mental defectives, were endorsed by the meeting, and it was decided to approach the Provincial Government with a request to use up the Federal Government's disability of establishing one or more national parks on Vancouver Island, preserving a suitable area fronting upon the Pacific Ocean.

Several resolutions to come before the national body were also considered, together with the proposed constitution of the provincial council. The Chaplain, Mrs. W. McLean, Mrs. White-Birch, Mrs. William Grant and Mrs. F. W. Laing were appointed delegates to attend the provincial meeting in Vancouver on May 21.

Doukhobor School May Be "Adopted"
 By I.O.D.E. Chapter

H. M. S. Resolution Chapter I.O.D.E. is considering the "adoption" of one of the Doukhobor schools near Nelson, as part of its work of Canadianizing the foreign-born settlers, according to tentative plans made at the meeting held yesterday evening at the home of Mrs. Sydney Oliver, Monterey Avenue. Mrs. R. D. Harvey presided and twenty-two members were present.

Announcement was made that all the tickets for the Indian cabaret at Hamsterley had been sold and none would be obtainable at the door. CHOCOLATE FUDGE CAKE

4 squares unsweetened chocolate, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 tablespoon boiling water, 2 cups butter, 1-4 cups of sugar, 1 egg, well beaten, 2 cups Borden's St. Charles Milk, 1-4 cups flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup white, stiffly beaten.

Shave or break the chocolate in small pieces and cook with sugar and milk until it forms a soft ball when tested in cold water. Remove from stove, add butter, but do not stir it in. Cool slightly, beat until creamy, add vanilla and nuts, spread between layers, and cover top of cake.

THE advantage of using St. Charles Milk wherever the recipe calls for milk may be expressed in a few words—it gives to food that richness, that smoothness of texture, that "cooked with cream" flavor which makes the dish a success. Yet its cost is so reasonable you can use it freely.

HOSPITAL DAY AT RESTHAVEN

Over 400 Persons Visited
Sidney Institution Sunday Afternoon

In celebration of Hospital Day, the doors of Rest Haven Hospital and Sanatorium were thrown open to the public on Sunday from 2:30 to 5 o'clock. A large number of visitors congregated in the spacious lounge room and hall. It is estimated that nearly 400 persons responded to the invitation to inspect the hospital and its equipment. Parking space for about sixty cars was available on the north and west side of the building.

A steady stream of visitors was directed by guides into the various sections of the hospital, where nurses stationed in the physiotherapy, laboratory, hydrotherapy, X-ray and surgical departments explained the uses of the equipment installed for the restoration and preservation of health. The guests then repaired to the lounge room where, for one hour, they were entertained by the Empress Hotel orchestra.

It is your solemn duty, mother, to give your boys and girls the flesh-adding, energy-creating, strength-building benefit of McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets—you can't start too soon.

Children love these sugar-coated tablets and you yourself won't be able to praise them enough once your kiddies grow well and strong again—once they start to add good solid flesh—nervousness disappears—their happy laughter, sunny dispositions and healthy little bodies will warm your heart. 60 tablets, 60 cents at MacFarlane Drug Co., Vancouver Drug Co., Owl Drug Co., or any drugstore.

YOUR BABY and MINE

Mrs. Edmond will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

DOES YOUR CHILD SCREAM AND SHRIEK IN THE BARBER CHAIR?

The days of long curls for girls and trowie heads for boys had at least one compensation. We didn't have to drag the protesting child to the barber every few weeks. And without doubt this is a ceremony most mothers view with positive horror. All the little rewards and macks of candy to be shopped for afterwards are usually forgotten when the child is once seated in the high, high chair, swathed to his neck in the big apron, and then the glittering, clattering scissors approach his head. If he doesn't gring and scream and demand to be let down he is a strange child, or his mother has wisely prepared him in advance for just this moment.

Mrs. T. U. P. has two children to deal with—twins. "Can you tell me anything to do that will help to keep my little twin boys from going into hysterics when their hair is clipped?" she asks. "We go through this ordeal every three weeks and all three of us are limp when it is over. What shall I do?"

CHILD FEARS SCISSORS
One thing to be considered when such a situation arises is what frightens the child. In most cases it is fear of the scissors. The mother, in her anxiety to prevent the child's dis-chestra, under the direction of William P. Tickle. At the close of the programme, visitors were invited into the dining-room, where light refreshments were served by a busy corps of lady helpers.

As a souvenir of the occasion a small folder containing items of interest pertaining to the institution was handed to each visitor, revealing the fact that apart from the hospital and sanatorium proper, Rest Haven operates a dairy farm, supplying monthly 700 gallons of milk and 300 quarts of cream. An addition to the dairy herd is noted in the recent arrival of six pedigree Holstein cows from College Heights, Alberta. A laundry is also a connected industry; one week's output consisting of 1,700 pieces.

astrous use of scissors, is very likely to impress upon him the awful things that will happen if he uses a scissor. When he sees the strange man coming toward him clicking the blades together, all these horrid possibilities rush into his head and there isn't much wonder that he screams. We must always remember that whenever we make a child fearful of any object or situation, we may have to reckon with it in the future. Fear should never be implanted in a child's mind. Caution, yes, but not fear.

I would suggest in your case, Mrs. T. U. P., that you buy each little boy a blunt scissor to be used daily. You didn't mention their ages but they can handle a blunt scissor even at two years, and by handling a blunt scissor they will lose their fear of it.

The next time they go to the barber let the boys take their own scissors along. Having lost their fear of the scissors, they will feel less dither at having their hair shorn.

Too much talk about going to the barber and use of the word "cut," which has such a terrifying meaning to the child, should be dispensed with. There is no particular necessity of dwelling on the impending operation. Just let it come about naturally. You might say, "We're going to shorten your hair a little." This doesn't sound nearly as gay as "cutting" or "clipping."

Y.P.S. BANQUET AND RALLY HELD

Big Reunion at First United Church Last Night Success

About one hundred and eighty representatives of Young People's Societies from south Vancouver Island and their guests held an enjoyable reunion banquet at the First United Church hall yesterday evening, on the occasion of the closing of the winter session of the United Council of the Y.P.S. Cecil Davies, the president, was in the chair. Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., pastor of the First United Church, extended a welcome to the members of the council and their guests, among whom were Rev. E. R. McLean, field secretary for religious education in the United Church; Miss Anne Fountain, girls' work secretary, and Rev. G. H. Hamilton, of Crosby, United Church, Vancouver, convener of religious education in British Columbia for the United Church, the latter delivering the principal address of the evening, his subject being "The Church and Adventurous Living."

The speaker stressed the idea of being religious, not for what can be got out of it, but rather for what can be put into it. When we begin to ask what we are going to get out of religion, the speaker said, we may not have ceased to be religious, but our religion has ceased to be Christian. He called attention to the church as a field for adventurous living. It involved a worldwide task with its domestic programme; the church's daily witness, business and political; and the unification of the church, which must be known not only as the United Church, but as a truly united church.

During the evening, Mrs. Bowden presided, and the programme consisted of song selections, and Rev. W. W. Lee of Sidney, announced that a young people's camp would be held in August.

YOUR CHILDREN

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
One time I saw a little boy go up to a small strange girl who had sidled up to the group he was playing with and cut her across the face with a whip.

She screamed and ran away home, and of course the boy was not only scolded but sent to his room. But his fame as a cruel youngster spread rapidly throughout the entire neighborhood.

For the episode of the whip, I discovered, was only one of many of the kind. He was not only a bully, but a teaser. Few of the children had escaped his pranks in one form or another, and trouble followed in his wake.

Eventually he was left alone. None of the children on the street were allowed to play with him and he trundled his small wheel up and down the pavement in lonely solitude.

THE TROUBLE MAKER
One day his aunt said to me, "It's a shame about Freddy. He is the most affectionate child I ever saw, but everything the other children do is blamed on him. He always liked to tease, but then what child doesn't? He always says when he does things."

That was several years ago. Freddy is still giving trouble. He isn't switching playmates over the face nor kicking them nor knocking them down, but he is calling them names, laughing at things they do, exasperating his teachers, and driving his parents to despair.

Why is it?
His aunt's endorsement showed that Freddy was not all wrong. He was affectionate and was always sorry for what he did.

A pretty good recommendation for any child and undoubtedly wonderful material for correcting less desirable traits.

He hurt or teased people he didn't like or resent.

As he grew older, he changed the form of his atrocities. He found that words and acts hurt more than blows.

This is the point. When Freddy was very little and couldn't be talked out of abusing and pestering his friends, his mother should have started giving him doses of his own medicine.

When he was still in the early experimental stage he could have been cured by showing him exactly what other people suffered at his hands.

Big Importation Of Canned Soups

A million and a quarter Canadian dollars go out of this country annually for the purchase of just one food article—canned soup—according to statistics recently issued in a circular by W. Clark Limited, Montreal, makers of refined food products, including their variety of soups.

This money is sufficient to purchase more than 10,000,000 cans of soup—or over one can per person in the Dominion. If it were spent on Canadian products it would be sufficient to employ approximately 1,500 men, who with their families would represent the population of a fair-sized town. But because Canadian import ten million cans of soup there is just that much less employment in Canada and that much less money in circulation here, the pamphlet points out.

It states further that the importation of such great quantities of a commodity which is also produced within the Dominion is to a great extent a thoughtless habit frequently based on the erroneous impression that foreign standards of manufacture are higher than Canadian, whereas the truth is that all Canadian canned foods must measure up to a high and rigid standard set by the Federal Government, and all that contain meat must be inspected in detail throughout the processes of manufacture by a Government inspector—a procedure which assures the consumer absolute purity and wholesomeness.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

LOCAL owners of sea-fish now have a new mark to shoot at with the announcement by Ole Evruds of prizes totaling $5,000. For the first time a prize of $500 has been offered: 55 miles an hour in time trials, $500; 55 miles an hour in competition, $500; 60 miles an hour in competition, $1,000. These prizes are all for model 460 racing motor. For "B" class motors the engine manufacturer has offered the following prizes: 45 miles an hour in time trials, $250; 45 miles an hour in time trials, $250; 50 miles an hour in time trials, $500; 50 miles an hour in time trials, $500; 50 miles an hour in time trials, $500.

These prizes look mighty nice, but they will be pretty hard to win. Jack Smith, owner of "Better Motor Car Repairs," who has cleaned up all the prizes in local meets and also won the Vancouver marathon, has only been able to get 44.69 miles an hour out of his trim little craft wide open. Smith carries the least amount of weight possible, and he claims it will take a mighty fast boat to make any of these record times and win the awards.

The two champions of 1929 dominated last week's campaign in the major leagues, with a pair of dark horses running second. The Philadelphia Athletics won six out of seven games, to top the American League, while the Chicago Cubs came in first in the National with five victories and one defeat. The surprising Boston Red Sox followed behind the Athletics, winning five games and losing two and leading the junior circuit in scoring and hitting. The Red Sox hammered out 86 hits for 44 runs and held their opponents to half as many hits.

Cincinnati's Reds pulled out five victories, most of them by narrow margins, in seven games to take second place in the National League, but also had the distinction of holding down their opponents' scores in addition. The Reds had only 26 runs scored against them, the best record in the National League.

The New York Yanks and Washington Senators came in third and fourth in the American League for the week, both beating the 500 mark. St. Louis was third in the National with four and two ratings, while New York and Brooklyn tied with four victories and three defeats each. The Giants came through Sunday to take the leading Cubs into camp and go into the lead in the National League.

The Giants had by far the best hitting record in the league. They scored 39 runs from 96 hits, nine of them home runs, to lead both circuits in these respects. The St. Louis Cardinals took second in the National League, scoring and hitting the best American League mark with 46 runs. Brooklyn gained the runner-up post in the National League, hitting 50 runs, while Washington's 73 took second in the American.

The Athletics in addition to making eight home runs to lead the American League, made the best defensive record in either circuit. They held their opponents to 14 runs in seven games. The Athletics also were a close second to the Boston Braves in fielding excellence. They gained only four errors while Boston made but three. Philadelphia and St. Louis in the National League went to the other extreme with twelve and thirteen errors respectively.

The Chicago White Sox tied with the Braves as the week's low scoring team. Each tallied only eighteen times, the Sox playing seven games and Boston six. They gained only one victory apiece. Pittsburgh lost five out of six games and made the worst defensive record, allowing fifty-five opposing players to cross the plate.

Reporters in New York asked Bobby Jones if he thought he shot better in competition than when shooting for fun. Most folks want to know just when Jones isn't shooting for fun.

As far as competing with Jones goes, the question might as well have been "Do you play golf?"

The Cincinnati Reds knocked Freddie Fitzsimmons of the New York Giants out of the box the other day. Freddie used to beat them twice during every series. But then, Walter Johnson said to Connie Mack: "Times change, eh, wot, old thing?"

According to fairly recent reports, we are able to state that the rumour that John McGraw was going to trade Terry Lindstrom, Ott, Jackson and cash for Hughie Clark is not reliable.

Dolly Stark, National League umpire, resigned, saying the nervous strain of the job was too great. Sounds like he may have called a close one against John McGraw.

"I guess I'll quit this jumpy job," the haggard umpire said; "I'll rest in Mexico and run for President instead."

Only Colts Will Face Barrier In $50,000 Classic

Mile and a Quarter Speed and Endurance Test Has Drawn Fine But Not Record Field; Nineteen Now Listed as Probable Starters But Several Withdrawals Expected Before Starting Time; Number of Eligibles Competing at Churchill Downs To-day.

Louisville, Ky., May 13.—With the Kentucky Derby only four days off, speculation to-day centred on the number of thoroughbreds that would go to the post when the bugle sounds "boots and saddles" for the fifth race at Churchill Downs Saturday.

The $50,000 added mile and a quarter speed and endurance test this year is not expected to have a record field. Nineteen horses, all colts, were listed to-day among the probable starters, with likelihood that several would be withdrawn before Saturday, bringing the number to accept the issue down to fifteen or less.

Nine Derby eligibles will compete to-day in the fifth race at the downs. The race, dubbed "the Derby trial," is for three-year-olds at the mile distance, and will give the dopesters a line on who has the best chance to defeat the Derby favorite, Gallant Fox, winner of the Freshman at Pimlico last Friday.

Gallant Fox, owned by William Woodward, Chicago, is not expected to race at Churchill Downs before he starts in the Derby, but Sydney, Johnson N. Camden's speedy colt, is entered in the Derby trial to-day. Sydney is the principal hope of loyal Kentuckians who are delighted when a Kentucky horse triumphs over an outside entry in the classic.

EMANUEL IS WINNER IN A SLOW AFFAIR

San Francisco Barrister Given Decision Over Jim Maloney in Ten Rounds

Frequent Hugging and Clinching Witnessed; Scrap Is a Financial Failure

Los Angeles, May 13.—The Jim Maloney-Armand Emanuel ring fight to-day stands on something of an even basis, with a victory each for the parties concerned.

The Emanuel person, a lawyer who hails from San Francisco, left-jabbed his way to a 10-round decision yesterday evening over the Bostonian who had gone into the fray a favorite on the basis of a previous knockout victory.

There was not even a knockdown, however, for the 12,000 patrons who trekked to Wrigley Field to see the renewal of hostilities. Frequent hugging and clinching and the inaccuracy of the referee's eastern batter, slowed the affair down to a walk.

Maloney apparently sought a knockout punch, but Emanuel, acquainted with the effects of his opponent's strong right hand, kept him off balance with a steady patter of jabs to the face which brought blood to the nose.

Neither man has a win to his credit. Maloney took seven rounds, Young two, with one even. The Canadian champion weighed 113 and Young 111½.

Sam Hackett, of Toronto, who recently lost a close decision to Leo Kid Boy, of Montreal, Canadian featherweight champion, had little trouble in outpointing Freddie Dawson, of Jamestown, N.Y., in the eighth round semifinal.

Malcolm Matheson, Toronto, 115½, won a six-round decision over Tommy McBeigh Vancouver, in convincing style.

LOSERS MEET IN GAME TO-NIGHT

Dodges and Buicks Clash in Garage League Ball Fixture

Fighting for their initial victory in the Garage League, the Dodgers and Buicks will clash at the Royal Athletic Park this evening at 8 o'clock. Neither team has a win to its credit.

The Buicks went down before the superior play of Freds last week, while the Dodgers bowed to the representatives of Eggs in the other fixture.

To-night when they come to grips the squads are expected to put up a hard game in order to get out of the cellar.

All Players At Scene of Walker Cup Golf Matches

Sandwich, England, May 13.—All players who will figure in the Walker Cup golf matches here Thursday and Friday have arrived at Sandwich, the British complement being filled by the arrival of Cyril Tolley, who made his first appearance on the Royal St. George's course to-day. Tolley has been golfing in France since his return from the United States.

He went out in a four-ball match with Roger Wethered, Robert Harris and Francis Oulmet, Boston, veteran.

Jones got together an all-American foursome with himself, George Voigt, George von Elm and Roland Mackenzie for some serious practice designed to find ways and means of overcoming the pitfalls with which Sandwich's famous course is plentifully supplied.

Jones seemed to revel in the heavy rain which fell most of the morning. He produced some excellent golf for the outward half.

He and his partner, Roland Mackenzie, were four up on George von Elm and George Voigt at the end of nine holes. Mackenzie's short game was not far short of that of his famous partner. He holed a fifteen-foot putt at the ninth and his putting on the home-made nine was the feature of the match.

Jones and Mackenzie won, two and one. Jones had a score of 76 and Mackenzie 74.

Wethered played well from the tee to-day and putted well, while Robert Harris showed form, indicating that he had lost none of his old touch despite his recent illness.

McGary and North each cracked twenty-four birds for the Colonist prize. In the final, McGary repeated the performance, while North fell two below.

J. P. Sylvester, with twenty birds to his credit, won the McGary award.

NOTTS' DEFEAT SOMERSET IN CRICKET GAME

Win By an Innings and Forty-five Runs in English County Cricket Event

London, May 13.—Nottinghamshire, in an English county cricket match, yesterday defeated Somerset by an innings and 45 runs at Nottingham.

The scores were: Notts, 295 for nine wickets, declared (White, four wickets for 73 runs); Somerset, 107; followed on, 143 (Ingle, 73).

In their match against Yorkshire the Australians compiled a first innings total of 230 in reply to the county's 155. W. M. Woodfull, Australian captain, made his second century of the tour, getting 121.

Small scores ruled in the match between Gloucestershire and Lancashire at Manchester. Gloucestershire were for 110 in their first innings and had lost seven wickets for only 60 runs in their second. Lancashire could do no better than 118 runs in their first innings. Gloucestershire bowling set, captured seven wickets for 60 runs.

Closing scores in other matches yesterday were:

Hampshire vs. Leicestershire at Portsmouth: Hampshire, 159 (Newman, 54; Atill, six wickets for 35 runs); Leicestershire, 269 (Biley, 66; Newman, four wickets for 42 runs).

Gloucestershire vs. Worcestershire at Worcester: Worcestershire, 229 and 143 (Mercer, eight wickets for 41 runs); Gloucestershire, 89 (Root, five wickets for 42 runs).

No play took place yesterday on account of rain in the matches between Middlesex and Derbyshire at Lords and Surrey vs. Northamptonshire at the Kensington Oval.

Ed Lewis Stages Comeback to Win From Dr. Sarpolis

Seattle, May 13.—After losing the first fall in the fourth round, Ed (Strangler) Lewis, former world's heavyweight wrestling champion, came back to conquer Dr. Karl Sarpolis, of Cleveland, here yesterday evening.

It was a return match for the pair, the two heavyweights having wrestled to a draw in Tacoma a few weeks ago. Sarpolis won the first fall with his pinning power, but was the victim of a body slam in the fifth, which took most of the fight out of him and he was an easy mark for Lewis' headlocks in the sixth.

Abe Coleman, of New York, won over Ken Jones, Seattle lightweight, in the semi-final, and Des Anderson, of Salem, Ore., defeated Jack Kruger, Port Orchard, light-heavyweight.

Elks Display Real Hitting Strength And Defeat Sons

Antlered Tribe Crash Out Four Home Runs in Bouncing Canadians 8-6; Jack Morgan, Elks' Catcher, Has Gala Night, Hitting Pair of Home Runs and a Double; "Big Jim" Robertson Makes Debut on Mound for Elks and Pitches Well.

Making seven hits count for eight runs the Elks displayed some real slugging ability at the Royal Athletic Park yesterday evening to defeat the Sons of Canada 8-6 in a Senior Amateur League ball game. During the course of the six innings the antlered tribe, managed by the veteran Walter Lorimer, crashed out no less than four home runs and two of them were credited to Jack Morgan, stocky catcher of the lodge men. The Elks, by their victory, cinched second place in the league standing and now are only a single game behind the Jokers, who lead the league with two straight victories.

Of the seven hits garnered by the Elks, six of them went for extra bases, Morgan and Webster crashing out a pair of doubles. Morgan was in great form, and his two home runs easily cleared the outfield fence. Besides his fine hitting, he gave a splendid performance behind the plate. The Elks displayed their real hitting strength yesterday evening for the first time this season.

Although they were in great hitting form, the Elks turned in a poor defensive game. To date the clubmen have not fielded so well, and yesterday evening was no exception, five errors being chalked up against them. Art Webster, on the first sack, was the worst offender, with two bobbles against his name.

ROBERTSON MAKES DEBUT

"Big Jim" Robertson, long-geared firelighter, made his debut on the mound for the Elks, and turned in a most creditable performance, allowing the Sons of Canada to hit for a home run, which came off the trusty willow of Jack Noble. Robertson struck out eight, while he walked one. The big fellow was a little nervous with runners on the paths, but after a little seasoning should develop into a first-class hurler. He has nice control, lots of speed and a fine curve ball.

Roy Haines, diminutive southpaw, started on the mound for the Sons, but after the Elks had gained a five-run lead he was sent out to right field and replaced by Jack Noble, who pitched the remainder of the game and held the antlered crew down to three runs and four hits.

SCORE SIX RUNS

The Elks started the ball rolling in the first inning, and before being retired, had chased home six runners. Norm Forbes started the procession by lifting the ball over the outfield fence for a circuit blow. Two batters were away at the time. Herb Cummins looked them over for a walk and scored on Webster's double to left field. Tommy Forbes popped one behind second base for a single, while Webster was replaced by Noble. Morgan, the first batter to face the new hurler, lifted the ball over the wall to bring the Elks' total to six.

The Elks added another run in the second when Jack McKenzie's long hit to right field hit the bicycle track, bouncing over the fence for a home run. The Sons had, previous to this, scored one run in the first inning when Noble tripled to left field and scored when the Elks were trapping Falconer between second and first. The Sons added three more runs to their total in the third. A pair of hits and Bacon's steal home gave the Canadians their markers. Both teams added a run in the fourth, Morgan scoring for the Elks with his second home run, while Bacon crossed the plate on Robertson's error in left field.

The Sons added their sixth and final run in the sixth inning when Haines beat out an infield hit and after a walk scored on Robertson's error.

Oak Bay Women Will Stage a Foursome Event

Seek McLarnin For Bout Against New Welter Titleholder

Chicago, May 13.—Dick Dunn, general manager of the Olympia Sporting Club, Detroit, yesterday said he has signed "Young" Jack Thompson, new world's welterweight champion, to defend his title against any opponent selected by Chicago officials in the same ring in which he defeated Jackie Fields for the championship last Friday night.

Dunn said he was negotiating for Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver, B.C. puncher, or "Young" Corbett III, Fresno, California, southpaw, as possible opponents for the negro sharpshooter. He did not, however, reveal terms offered, nor the proposed date of the bout.

New York Giants Showing Strength In National Struggle

Ride Roughshod Over Other Clubs To Remain On Top

John McGraw's Club Tangles With Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh for First Time This Season and Carry Off Honors, Winning Three Out of Four Games From Two Teams; Fireworks Seen as New Yorkers Beat Pirates 14-12; Nine Home Runs Hit; Record Beaten; Yanks Blank Detroit.

New York Giants have tangled for the first time this season with their chief rivals, Chicago and Pittsburgh, and have mustered to John McGraw's fence-busters beyond dispute. The Giants rode roughshod over the Pirates and the Cubs, taking three games out of four from each, to gain a firm grasp on the league leadership.

The final game of the series with the Cubs provided most of the fireworks. The Giants won 13-12. Nine home runs were hit, three by the Giants and six by the Cubs.

The Cubs equaled the record made by Pittsburgh in 1894 when they pounded out four homers in the seventh.

Beating Brooklyn 6 to 2, Pittsburgh created a triple tie for third place with the Robins and Cincinnati Reds as their companions.

The Reds noosed out Philadelphia, 7 to 6, for their ninth victory in their last twelve games.

George Piggas turned in the best pitching performance in the American League when he allowed the Detroit Tigers only three hits and hurled the New York Yankees to a 7-0 win. Lou Gehrig hit his sixth home run of the year.

Boston Red Sox's five-game winning streak was halted by St. Louis, 3-2 in ten innings.

The Philadelphia Athletics maintained a half-game lead over Washington for first place by trouncing Cleveland 12 to 1.

Bob Burke allowed only five hits as Washington trounced Chicago 13 to 2.

Colwood

The monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to St. John's Church will be held Thursday afternoon, May 15, at 2:30 at the vicarage.

About 150 patrons attended the dance Friday night in Colwood Hall under the joint auspices of the Wilfrid Mumber Social Club and the Colwood Hall Committee. A substantial sum was realized and will be used for improvements to Colwood Hall. Finner's three-piece orchestra supplied the music. The winner of the box of chocolates was A. Godfrey.

A well-attended meeting of the Colwood Optimists was held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Peat. Guessing contest winners were Miss Norma Parker and J. Lawson.

Mr. E. V. Peat is visiting friends in Vancouver.

H. Dunn, assistant fire ranger of Colwood and district, has taken up residence on Mount View Avenue.

Alderman Robert Smith was an interested spectator on an all-day tour of the city waterworks last week, under the guidance of F. M. Preston, city engineer and water commissioner, he explained to fellow colleagues on the council yesterday evening. Alderman Smith was much impressed with the system, noticed all lakes and reservoirs full, and saw progress being made in the reduction of flow-line losses, he stated.

World's Largest Yacht Launched For J.P. Morgan

New York Multimillionaire Now Owns New "Corsair" Costing $2,500,000; New Ship Is Magnificently Appointed and Beautifully Furnished.

The next time John Pierpont Morgan goes down to the sea, it will be in the largest and most costly yacht ever built. For the new Corsair fourth Morgan craft to bear that name, is no less than a private ocean liner. It has been launched from the ways of the Bath Iron Works.

The Corsair is 243 feet in length—more than one-third the over-all measurement of the Leviathan. The beam, or breadth, is forty-two feet six inches—two-thirds that of many small passenger liners.

FRINCESS OF SEAS
The cost of the Corsair is upward of $2,500,000, and her tonnage will be 3,000. The famous presidential yacht Mayflower, recently withdrawn from service by President Hoover, was only a launch by comparison. It was of only 180 tons.

Two Morgan traditions have been carried out with this new prince of the sea. All of the Corsairs have had black hulls with superstructures, and rakesh masts fore and aft the single stacks. And this yacht will be powered by steam, as were all the others. The economy of Diesel engines had no appeal for J. P. Morgan, nor would he make any sacrifice to speed or power. That is why the Corsair is fitted with the steam turbines and electric drive which only commercial liners can boast. She is a twin screw yacht with two independent power plants. A third turbine-driven generator, capable of lighting a small city, supplies the electric power for living quarters and controls.

Morgan, like his father, who built the other Corsairs, has spent much of his life on the water, but he never crossed the ocean in his yacht. Forty feet shorter, and of narrower beam, it was considered too small for comfortable transatlantic travel; this in spite of the fact that it was placed in government service during the war, as the gunboat Gloucester, and for two years was used as an armament convoy.

But the multi-millionaire money king will not need to send this new yacht ahead of him to the Mediterranean while he crosses on a monster liner. The designers, Henry J. Gielow, Inc., have planned it to ride low in the water and to be fairly steady in any sea. The motors of 4,000 horsepower will drive it through waves at a sixteen-knot clip, and the cruising range will be no less than 25,000 miles.

POSTMAN HAS WALKED FIVE TIMES WORLD'S GIRTH

Since he started his career as a mail man in West Orange, N.J., exactly thirty-six years ago, William O. Simpson—"Independence Day Bill," to his friends—estimates he has walked a distance greater than five times the circumference of the earth.

On his rounds he walks twelve miles a day. He takes steps two and a half feet long, making 25,244 a day, or 2,524,400 steps a year, covering 3,600 miles. He figures he has taken 242,735,840 steps to cover 130,320 miles in all his years of carrying the mail.

He was born in Ireland fifty-eight years ago, July 4, hence the nickname "Independence Day Bill."

COUNCIL VOICES ITS CONDOLENCE

By a standing vote yesterday evening the City Council expressed its deep regret at the loss sustained by Parks Superintendent T. R. Purdy, who was notified of the death of his wife in this city just as he arrived at Los Angeles from Victoria to attend a parks convention on behalf of Victoria. Alderman William Cullen moved that a letter of condolence be sent to Mr. Purdy and the relatives, and this was carried.

SOOKE TO ASK ADVICE FROM TELEPHONE CO.

District Association Notified
Ottawa "Still Considering"
Betterment of System

Special to The Times
Sooke, May 13.—A meeting of the Sooke District Association, held in the Belvedere Hotel on Thursday, was attended by over thirty members, the chair being taken by the president R. R. H. Goodrich. H. Goodrich was elected temporary secretary.

Extension of the city water service to Grant Road residences was discussed. The terms on which the city would carry out the extension were examined and amended proposals will be submitted to the City Hall again with amended proposals.

FOUND PLAN SHELVED
The Found Law project was the subject of lengthy discussion, and it was soon evident that, notwithstanding the number of residents who favored Sooke being made a pound district, and the general recognition of the advantages to the community, there was much sympathy for those with free running stock. In the end, the matter was referred for three months.

of the Court of Appeal, whose reputation as an orator has spread through the United States as well as Canada, has been invited to give an address in Seattle to-morrow. ### Ends Piles Quick

No Salves or Cutting

Piles are caused by congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Only an internal medicine can remove the cause. That's why salves and cutting fail. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, removes this congestion and strengthens the affected parts.
HEM-ROID is now sold by druggists everywhere, and has such a wonderful record of success, even in chronic and stubborn cases that many druggists and Vancouver Drug Stores invite every pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantee money-back if it does not end all pile misery. (Adv.)

AS FLAMES SWEEP THROUGH NASHUA, N.H.

Skull on Side of Rock Commemorates 'Soapy' Smith

"SOAPY" SMITH was a tough guy. He shot men for the fun of it and robbed them when there was nothing better to do. He had a trick of appearing to wrap a cake of soap in a five dollar bill and of selling it to a gullible customer for a few cents. Because of that they called him "Soapy" up in Skagway in the gold-rush days of '98. But "Soapy" was too tough and too slippery even for the rough frontier of the north. One day he was a bit slow on the draw. He was shot and killed and buried with his antagonist, whom he had mortally wounded. In the little cemetery adjoining the town.

When news of his sudden and long hoped for death arrived the townspeople apparently thought something should be done to commemorate the end of a desperate career.
Someone had said that "Soapy" was as hard as rock. So they painted a skull on a cliff and lettered Soapy's name on it. Today tourists to Skagway stand and photograph this relic of a day that is no more.

Alaska and the Yukon are sunny places of green hill sides and flowers, of placid lakes and roaring rivers, of great peaks and deep valleys when the boats cruise up there in the summer time. This year the service is to be augmented by the S. S. Prince Henry, of the Canadian National Steamships. The CNS "Prince Rupert" and the "Prince George," of the same line are already known for their comfort and seaworthy qualities to the thousands of tourists who each year make the voyage up the well-known Inside Passage to Prince Rupert and Skagway. Two other new steamers now being built for the Canadian National Pacific Coast Service, the Prince Robert and the Prince David, will ply between Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle.

Vancouver accompanied by his daughter, Miss Valerie Lowther. They will meet Mrs. Lowther and daughter Anne on their return from a six months visit to relatives in Bristol, England.
W. M. Mount returned on Thursday from Victoria and Vancouver.
Mrs. A. Clarke Booth's Canal, has left for a visit to Vancouver, where she will be the guest for several days of her daughter, Mrs. E. Blythe.
Miss Sylvia Trage is visiting friends in Vancouver.
Miss M. Manson is spending a week in Vancouver, where she is the guest of relatives.
Mrs. Lyn Bittancourt returned on Thursday from several days visit to Vancouver.
Mrs. Howard Horel returned to her home on Beaver Point Road on Wednesday after a visit to Victoria.
Miss Lettice Cartwright of Victoria, spent the weekend as the guest of Miss Betty Kingsbury.
Mrs. Moorhouse was a recent tea hour hostess, the guests including Mrs. J. C. Kingsbury, Mrs. C. Macintosh, Miss Cameron, Miss B. Kingsbury, H. W. Bullock and others.

French Boy Studied When Still With Cold

Alphonse Daudet sat at the table in his little room, studying his lesson.

Now and then he put down his pencil and shook his stiff fingers. The room was very cold, for the Daudet family was too poor to afford coal and wood for a fire. He sat with a blanket over his knees, but it didn't help much.
The door opened softly, and his mother came in, "You are working?"
she asked.

"Yes, mother."

"You are not cold?"

"No, mother," he answered cheerfully, not wanting to make her sad.
She sat down in a rocking chair beside him and began knitting. She did this night after night, so that he would not feel he had to stand the cold alone, while she was warm in bed.

Alphonse Daudet, born in France, May 13, 1840, became a great French writer.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)
Winnipeg, May 13.—Wheat: Wheat was a dull narrow affair to-day with nothing of feature going on. Opening prices were 1½¢ higher, based on the advance in Chicago Monday, while Winnipeg was closed, and to the early strength in Liverpool.

It was reported that a good export business had been worked with sales of Canadian wheat totaling over 2,000,000 bushels since the close of this market on Saturday, but very little of this business was reflected locally and, with offerings fairly liberal, most of the opening advance was lost, after which the market held steady within a narrow range most of the day, but turned up later with shorts covering, due to some pessimistic reports from winter wheat territory.

Trade was mostly local in character, but the feeling was a little more friendly and the market might have done a little better but for the pool, who were taking advantage of the upturn to sell wheat.

Further rains were received in the southwest, heavy in some districts, while good rains were practically general over United States spring wheat states and in Manitoba, with showers in eastern Saskatchewan with cool temperatures prevailing.

In the cash market there was a fairly good demand for all grades. Both the American and Canadian visible supply made the largest decrease for this year. Coarse grains: Oats and rye finished a little firmer, while barley was fractionally lower. These markets continued rather featureless with only a small trade passing. In the cash markets there is a good demand for the lower grades of oats and barley from eastern Canada, but all coarse grains are trading generally in just odd cars and small lots.

Flax: Demand continues very poor with crushers showing no interest.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

How Can a Mother Attract Young Men to Her Daughter?—Must Mrs. Grundy Be Catered to in Business Relations?—Evaading Responsibility

DEAR MISS DIX—Will you please tell me how my daughter may become popular with young men? She is fairly attractive in looks and brilliant in her school work, but she is eighteen years old and has never had a date without my inviting the boy to the house. After being invited he never calls again of his own accord. I spend my time planning how to induce young men to pay her attention. Must I leave it entirely up to her or must I continue to try to help her?

WOMANLY MOTHER.

ANSWER—My dear lady, if I knew the formula for sex appeal I could make more money out of it than Mr. Ford ever had out of his silver. Also, millions of grateful mothers and daughters would erect a higher monument to me than has been erected to Washington.

But alas, I know no more than you do what is the secret of that attraction that draws every man she meets to one girl, while another just as pretty, just as sweet and charming, men pass by without ever giving her a second look.

Nor do I know any art or wiles by which a girl who lacks this attraction for men can supply it. It is folly to tell her to make herself beautiful. Nature settled that question and, anyway, it isn't a matter of beauty, because often you will see a pretty girl who never has a date and who wears the wiles of some honey girl who has dates galore and is broken in on every two minutes at a dance.

It is useless to tell a girl that if she wishes to be popular she must dress well or that she must be bright and chatty and vivacious or that she must be a good sport or that she must give the boys the glad hand. Because there are plenty of girls who dress like fashion plates who sit up at home and suck their thumbs and plenty of lively girls who have their own cars and can swim and play tennis and golf and bridge who never have any other companions than other girls and plenty of girls who run after boys who run from them.

And there are plenty of girls who are just girls, with no points about them that are superior to other girls, and yet every man they meet falls for them and gives them a rush. So there you are, and if a girl is attractive to men she is attractive to them, and if she isn't she isn't and there is practically nothing she can do about it. And still less that the mother can do.

Of course, it is every mother's duty to help her daughter get a good husband if she can, and she can best do this by making her home attractive to young people and drawing as many boys and girls into it as she can. This gives daughter a good background and will do more than anything else to draw her into the magic circle of the young people who have dates and go about to places and do things.

The boys and girls can't very well leave Sally out of their fun when they have just eaten Sally's mother's chicken salad and sandwiches or they are going somewhere in Sally's father's car, and so mother can adroitly work Sally into the crowd by feeding it and making her home the jolliest place to which it can go.

Also, if mother is wise, she doesn't confine her entertaining to boys. She always has some very attractive girl staying with Sally, who is a stalking horse for Sally. Many mothers are afraid to institute this contrast between their own daughter and a popular girl, but in this they are in error. It is better for Sally to run second than not to be in the race at all. Fortunately, the vamp can only have one date at a time and the leftovers become the possession of Sally.

A woman who lacks vivid personal charm to draw people about her will always find her best bet in the kitchen pot. Any woman who is noted for her dinners or her suppers will be popular. Then her next best bet is to surround herself with the most attractive women and the best-looking she can get. That way she shines in reflected glory and acquires a charm from her surroundings that no one stops to analyze. Many a man has proposed to a girl that he never knew he loved until he was filled up with her mother's pies and purring with contentment and affection for all the world.

But in trying to help her daughter to be popular with men a mother must be careful not to overdo it and not to frighten men away instead of telling them in. There is no other creature on earth of whom men stand in such deadly terror as they do of the managing mamma who is out husband-hunting for her daughter.

And the mother should also consider the daughter's feelings. To a sensitive girl no humiliation is more acute than realizing that her mother is throwing her at the head of every man she meets and that she is forcing men to pay her attention against their will. And it is horrible to a girl to know that her mother considers her a failure because men pass her by and because she doesn't marry.

But, worried mother, why should you worry about your daughter not having beaux? Suppose she isn't attractive to men. You say that she has a brilliant mind. Why not let her alone and let her follow her own bent and be happy in her own way? There are so many things in the world nowadays besides beaux and matrimony.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a business woman. Frequently I have invitations to dinner and the theatre that men extend me exactly as they would to a man in the position I hold. Often these invitations are from married men who are absolutely disinterested except from a business standpoint and who want to take this time and method of talking over business propositions. Good business says accept these invitations. Convention says refuse them. What should I do, pass up the business opportunities, which a man would welcome, or risk the tongue of Mrs. Grundy in doing as the man would do?

M. E.

ANSWER—There is no sex in business. When you are in business forget that you are a woman and act as a man would under similar circumstances.

The same conventions do not apply in office hours and out of them. You would think a man no gentleman if he did not pull out your chair for you at a dinner party, but you don't expect him to pull out your chair at your typewriter desk, or when you go to take his dictation. Trained nurses and doctors and newspaper women go, without comment, to places to which no debutante could go without causing gossip.

So long as you are attending strictly to business, you need no chaperon, so accept any invitation that advances your interest.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am an orphan living with my three sisters. Two are in school and dependent. One, three years my senior, works and earns enough to support the younger sisters. I want to go to college more than anything else in the world, but my sister objects to this, saying that it is as much my duty to help support the younger children as hers. Don't you think that if I have the grit to work my way through college she should be willing to help that much for three years?

FREDDIE.

ANSWER—I certainly do not see any justice in your evading your part of the family responsibility and dumping the whole burden on your sister's shoulders. It is just as much up to you to work and help support the younger sisters as it is hers, and if you have any manhood in you, you will brace up and do it.

Suppose you do want to go to college. Probably she would like to go to Europe, and one of you has just as much right to gratify your desire as the other. You will say that these next three years are crucial ones in your life and that if you had a better education it might help you to make more of a success in life.

She can say with equal truth that the next three years are a crucial time in her life because they will be the time in which she will be most likely to marry, and if she does not have to work too hard and can have money to buy some pretty clothes, she will stand a far better chance of catching a good husband than if she was overworked and underfed and shabby, as she would have to be if she had to support the younger sisters without any help from you.

Suppose you do want to go to college. Probably she would like to go to college if he wants to, but he hasn't any right to gratify your desire as there are altogether too many families who are making martyrs of themselves for the selfish of a college education for some boy or girl of mediocre ability.

CIRCUS CAUSES HOT DISCUSSION BY COUNCILLORS

Must Not Charge Entrance
Fee, Esquimalt Decides at Meeting Yesterday Evening

Blocked Roadway Draws Fire;
Residents Express Disapproval, Letter Says

Councilman A. Lockley, who noted that the site on which the circus was standing was a public park. He was backed by Councilor A. Heald, who stated that under the deed of gift of Bullen's Park to the council, no charge could be made, unless the money were to be turned back for the improvement of the grounds.

TOLD NOT TO CHARGE
Reeve Erick pointed out that in the letter the council had sent Mrs. J. T. Jones, head of the Esquimalt Friendly Help, under whose auspices the circus is being shown, he had stipulated that no entrance charge should be made into the park.

Councilor Heald was of the opinion that the offence might be condoned in view of the fact that the Friendly Help was securing a percentage of the gate receipts, but, after being shown that the practice would be strictly illegal, supported the other members of the body.

"I think it's a disgrace and a shame that they (the circus people) have put it over us," said Councilor Lockley. "The motion to put it up to the law."

The motion to the effect that no fee should be charged was put before the meeting and passed.

ROAD BLOCKED
Councilor Lockley then brought up the matter of the circus people occupying Sturdee Street, which he called a much-travelled highway. He stated that the entrance to the show was in the middle of the road and concession stands made it impossible for anyone to use the street. It was against the law, he stated, to have them situated in that manner.

Reeve Erick stated that, following the recommendation of the chief of police, he had given the circus people permission to use the street, which he considered of little use for traffic. The location had been ratified by the Council and the council, he added.

Councilor Lockley said: "If you had

CORNER STONE FOR SHRINE UNIT OF SOLARIUM TO BE LAID AT OFFICIAL CEREMONY

CONDUCTS BAND

JIMMY MILLER
popular leader of the Shrine Band, which will perform at the ceremony at the solarium to-morrow afternoon.

With officials of the Glash Temple, the Solarium directorate, and of various Island women's institutes attending, Robert Baird, past grand master, A.F. & A.M., will lay the cornerstone of the new Shrine unit of the Queen Alexandra Solarium at Malahat Beach to-morrow.

An impressive ceremony lasting about half an hour will be conducted, the Glash Temple Shrine Band rendering selections. Shrine officials will include William O. Wallace, illustrious potentate; Emory C. Jones, chief rabban; David McKenzie, assistant rabban; Donald R. Martyn, high priest; and prophet; Arthur Davis, Oriental guide; Frank V. Hobbs, treasurer, and Edward E. Leason, recorder.

Mrs. Curtis Simpson, president, will head the Solarium group. The new Shrine unit will be a handsome and important addition to the Solarium. A sum of $15,000 has been donated by the order for the work, and to this amount another $15,000 has been added by the Solarium directorate in order that the structure may have accommodations not only for Shrine patients, but for the central offices of the Solarium as well.

TEN BEDS
Ten beds will be installed in the structure, applications for all of them having been filed with the order.

Excavations for the work were commenced three weeks ago, and it is hoped to have the whole unit ready for occupation by the end of the summer. The Shrine order has founded hospitals in several parts of the country in line with its excellent policy of promoting this type of welfare work.

The selection of Malahat Beach for the new unit was made following a visit of Dr. Pillehuit, chief surgeon of the Shrine hospital at Portland, and is, indeed, another tribute to the fine climate of the Island.

MANY PATIENTS
Ten hospitals on the continent are operated by the Shrine order. Something like 7,500 cases have been admitted to these institutions up to the present time, and of this number 6,700 have been discharged. In addition, over 10,000 children have been treated in "out-patient" departments.

The new unit will be under the control of the Solarium management, subject to the approval of the Shrine order, who are already represented on the board by E. E. Leason.

Special buses will leave the Vancouver Island Coach Lines depot at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon for the Solarium.

RESIDENTS OBJECT
In a communication to the council, Mrs. Catherine Hay-Currie, a resident of the district, voiced her disapproval of the circus. She stated she did not think the council should have allowed it to use Bullen Park, and added that within a short time she had collected the names of sixty-six people who shared her views. While she realized that it was too late to make a change this year, she hoped the council would consider her letter if the matter came up in the future.

Realizing the value of the circus to the Friendly Help, the council failed to agree entirely with Mrs. Hay-Currie, but expressed disapproval of the manner in which the circus people had acted.

AT THE THEATRES

PLAYERS SCORE GREAT SUCCESS IN FINAL PLAY

Gordon McLeod Company
Chose Fine Comedy For
Farewell Week

Slang and "Wise-cracks"
Liven Show at Royal Theatre

For their farewell week at the Royal Victoria Theatre, the Gordon McLeod English Players have chosen a vehicle entirely different from those they have presented during their eighteen-week run. It is entitled "She Got What She Wanted," and is an ultra-modern type, filled with American slang and "wise-cracks," showing once again the versatility of this talented company.

Gordon McLeod, as an emigrant Russian, gives one of the best performances of his appearance here. Miss Lilian Christie as his Russian wife, James McGrath as a "hard-boiled" gambler and gangster, Roland Gillett as a dashing saxophone player and "sheik," Claude Bailey as a tough Irish detective and Margaret St. Barbe-West as a radio "blues singer," are all roles which will surprise, and also please, Royal patrons.

Although it is undoubtedly difficult for an English company to properly put over the "Yankee" effect with the right expression for unaccustomed slang, the players have caught the idea of the play excellently.

A small, but enthusiastic first night audience greeted the opening of the final week yesterday evening.

The play deals with the efforts of the Russian lady Mahnya to find the "soul of true love" which, she says, "has been lost." She intends to find it for this reason she made a marriage bargain with her husband, Boris, that if either of them fell in love he or she should say so and a divorce would be arranged.

After three years of life in a room behind a New York bookshop, eating bread and butter because her husband likes it, Mahnya pursues her quest for the "soul of true love." With a superior complex, finds her favor always fails to carry out her elopement plans and she ends up by marrying the gangster who could not be continued as romantic by any stretch of the imagination.

Four attempts to run away with Eddie prove fruitless. Finally Mahnya sees the light of romance in the eyes of her first husband, who has become a successful writer and who has developed by "stepping out."

In a minor role is Miss Ann Farrer as Mrs. Kelley, an Irish woman, whose one enjoyment in life is Coney Island.

"THE DEVIL'S MAZE," HAILED AS TRIUMPH, IS COLISEUM FILM

"The Devil's Maze," now showing at the Coliseum Theatre, is a triumph for British "talkies," and a tribute to the English countryside. Its spirited hunt scenes, the excitement of the chase, and the glamour and romance of a hunt ball, typical of English country life at its best are all excellent indeed.

"The Devil's Maze" is the name given to a perplexing bit of country, on which a typical English hunting man and his wife's girl companion get lost in a fog.

The acting of Renee Clama, a new

THRILLING STORY OF GAMBLING LIFE NOW AT PLAYHOUSE

Realistic characterizations, strong dramatic situations and thrilling moments abound in "Mexicali Rose," the Columbia all-talking drama of life on the Mexican border, which opened at the Playhouse Theatre yesterday evening with Barbara Stanwick and Sam Hardy in the leading roles.

It is the type of drama that moves rapidly toward a smashing climax. The drama is woven about a heartless coquette, who is discarded by her sweetheart because he finds proof of her infidelity. She weaves a net of revenge, determined to strike at him through his younger brother, whom he loves, only to be caught in the strands herself and destroyed.

COLUMBIA PICTURE STAR TOOK FENCING TO GET ATMOSPHERE

In "The Night of Love," George Fitzmaurice's production for Mr. Goldwyn, which is now showing at the Columbia Theatre, in which Ronald Colman is co-starring with Miss Betsy Ross, Miss Ross was called upon to take a series of fencing lessons, in order that she might experience the proper mood during the exciting episodes of the picture in which she takes no actual part.

Every day for a week or two a fencing teacher taught her how to appear with sword and rapier, and to be adept in the art. Ronald Colman, the hero, and Montagu Love, who plays the villain's role, also took fencing lessons. Several important scenes in "The Night of Love" call for duelling between the hero and villain, and both became expert adversaries through their off-stage training.

CONRAD NAGEL IN RUSSIAN ROLE FOR PLAY "REDEMPTION"

Conrad Nagel had to steep himself in Russian associations prior to the making of John Gilbert's all-talking picture, "Redemption," which will be shown to-day and Wednesday at the Capitol Theatre. Nagel plays the part of a young Russian in the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle, which was adapted from Tolstoy's drama, "The Living Corpse," and consequently had to assume as many characteristics of the Russian nationality as he could pick up.

In a recent interview Nagel was asked how he did it. "Well," he replied, "I haunted all the Russian restaurants in Hollywood, cultivated the friendship of Russian actors and musicians and little by little gained an insight into the Russian 'manner.'"

Associated with Nagel in important roles in the new picture are Eleanor Boardman and Renee Adoree. The direction was handled by Fred Niblo.

Greta Garbo's long heralded first all-talking picture, "Anna Christie," adapted from the celebrated play by Eugene O'Neill, opened at the Dominion Theatre yesterday evening and fulfilled all expectations. Miss Garbo's voice is not only suited admirably to the role of the Swedish farm girl but gives every indication of being rich and pliant enough to be adequate for any role which she may be called upon to play in the future. The much-discussed Garbo accent is so slight as to only make her speech the more interesting.

BETTY COMPTON STAR OF SCREEN MUSICAL COMEDY NEXT WEEK

Betty Compton may to-day lay claim to the distinction of being "the musical comedy star" of motion pictures. A series of three photoplays—"On With the Show," "Street Girl," and "The Great Gatsby"—caused Hollywood to regard her in this light. In "The Great Gatsby," filmed by James Cruze, Betty is again a musical comedy star. On this occasion, she broadens her scope to include both singing and dancing. "The Great Gatsby" will come to the Playhouse next week.

Canadian Firm Makes Largest Shipment of Home Laundry Appliances Ever Made in Canada in One Day

From their Hill Street plant, Pergus, Beatty Bros. Limited shipped two solid trainloads of home laundry equipment, the largest shipment of its kind ever made in one day in the history of Canada. Three years ago this firm made history by shipping the largest trainload of hardware to Western Canada. The two trainloads left the Beatty plants on May 3 for distribution throughout Eastern and Western Canada, and were the third and fourth trainloads shipped by Beatty Bros. Limited during the past five years. Beatty Bros. Limited was founded in 1874, over fifty-six years ago. Their plants now cover ten acres. Since 1921 the Village of Pergus has enjoyed exceptional prosperity through the activities of the Beatty Industries. There has not been a day lost to the workers in the Beatty plants, and during the past winter, they were exceptionally busy. In March, more Beatty Electric Washers were manufactured than in any month in the history of the firm.

The two trainloads of Beatty washers shipped on May 3 indicate the demand for electric washers by the women of Canada. Evidently the Beatty enjoys an enviable reputation. This reputation is very pleasing to Canadians, as this firm is Canadian throughout. Management, capital, employees and inventions are purely Canadian. Practically every part of the Beatty washer is made in the three Beatty factories at London and Pergus, Ontario. More than forty of the firm's franchises across Canada give service to Beatty customers and dealers. The two trainloads of electric washers will be distributed in nearly every city, town and hamlet in Canada. The two trainloads consisted of more than 4,000 Beatty washers, and over 6,000 sets of Beatty laundry equipment, which are given with these washers. This labor-saving equipment will lift the burden of washday from the backs of thousands of Canadian housewives from coast to coast.
